Aldermen Show Public Spirit

Alderman James H. Ogilvie KC, and the aldermanic colleagues who are associated with him in moving for an outside civic survey of Edmonton's administration demonstrate a splendid sense of public service.

It is a sense of public service that can very well introduce a new era of expansion and progress for Edmonton.

Every thinking Edmonton citizen has been unusually aware for many months that something was wrong with the administration of this city's affairs.

Residents have been conscious of civic failure somewhere in the manner in which Edmonton's streets have been permitted to fall into an atrocious condition while other cities of comparable size and circumstances have enjoyed good paving and good sidewalks.

Citizens have been appalled to find a lack of foresight in providing water mains adequate to the needs of a growing city.

They have been shocked to discover, when an opportunity arose to secure a much needed new hotel for Edmonton, that town planning was in such a desperate mess, through the city's apparent contempt, for that important function, that there was conflict and confusion over finding a site for that hotel.

They have been irritated and infuriated over Edmonton's failure, although money was appropriated for it, to embark on a program of ditching and draining and filling to eradicate the mosquito plague that keeps Edmontonians miserable.

In the face of all this confusion and failure and neglect, taxpayers have enquired, with good reason, if they have been getting their money's worth for the tax dollar.

Now all these conditions have been just as apparent to the aldermen as to the private citizens.

And when these conditions drew a torrent of caustic criticism from The Edmonton Bulletin, the aldermen could have adopted a pose of obdurate defence.

Alderman Ogilvie and his colleagues have not taken that sullen and defensive stand.

On the contrary, they have immeasurably increased their stature as men of intelligence and as diligent public servants by assuming leadership of the insistent public demand that Edmonton's civic affairs be submitted to the investigation of trained civic experts from outside.

If the council endorses the Ogilvie resolution a great new day will have dawned for Edmonton.

Edmontonians to Pay Double For Carrots

Edmontonians will be paying more than twice as much for carrots this summer as they did last year.

Carrots will be selling at 11 or 12 cents per pound this summer, compared with about 5 cents a pound last year. The Bulletin learned today.

The new price is one of the highest which consumers have ever paid for carrots.

IMPORTS BANNED

Because of the beginning of Canada's austerity program, importation of carrots from U.S. has been prohibited, except during winter months when no Canadian-grown carrots are available.

At present, federal government regulations make retail price of carrots 10 cents per pound, not counting transportation costs.

Many wholesalers who have been importing carrots from the U.S. during the past several months have been unable to bring the vegetable to Canadian consumers, such as the complications of government regulations.

U.S. producers are paid about five cents a pound for carrots.

CEILING IMPOSED

Thursday night the federal price board placed a 7-cent a pound ceiling on Canadian-grown carrots, applied at the producer level.

Ceiling becomes effective today. Wholesalers will be allowed a markup of 10 per cent, retailers buying from wholesalers at a 30 per cent markup.

This will make Canadian-grown carrots about 11 cents a pound when sold in the area in which they are grown, but Edmontonians will have to pay extra for transportation charges on B.C. carrots.

Last year's carrot prices were half this amount. At present, some U.S.-grown carrots are still being imported into Canada, selling here at 10 cents a pound, with most wholesalers losing money on the deal.

These imports will probably cease when home-grown supply becomes adequate to meet consumer need.

Gunmen Get $12,000 Haul

BEIRL, June 15.—(CP)—Two armed bandits today stole the $12,000 payroll of the western division of the Montreal General Hospital and made their get-away in a stolen taxicab.

Two hospital employees were alighting from a car with the money when a taxicab drove up to the door. The bandits shoved them into the cab, got in with them and forced the driver, Frank Edmonds, to drive on.

Later on the armed men shoved the cash, got in with them and forced the driver, Frank Edmonds, to drive on.

Edmonds told police he tried to follow his taxicab in another car but lost track of the fugitives.

Wage Increases

BEIRL, June 15.—(AP)—Maj.-Gen. E. O. Herbert, commander of the British sector of Berlin, authorized wage increases of up to 20 per cent in the British sector of the city today. Similar orders were issued by the French and American commanders.

Use of water for sprinkling lawns, trees and gardens is now permitted between the hours of 6 p.m. and 8 a.m., city commissioners announced today.

However, these new sprinkling hours work on a rotation basis between houses on the odd and even sides of the street.

Persons living in houses with even numbers are allowed to sprinkle gardens on the even days of the month from 6 p.m. to 8 a.m. Those persons living in houses with odd numbers may water gardens on the odd days of the month.

Montreal Fire Claims Lives of Four Children

MONTREAL, June 15.—(CP)—Four children were dead and a fifth was in hospital with serious burns after fire swept through two wooden homes near suburban Longueuil early today.

Firemen shot helplessly as the flames leaped through the two-storey buildings. They could find no water mains for their hoses.

The dead are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Boucher. They are: Claude, 15; Denise, 15; Claire, 11; and Claudette, seven.

SNATCHED FROM FIRE

The fifth child, Hugette, 11, was snatched from the flames by fire official constables J. V. Goyette and Michael Bell. Hospital officials reported her condition as "fair".

Two other youngsters of the family were reported safe. The fire was discovered in a small restaurant and home in one of the structures. A pumpster was the first fire-fighting vehicle to arrive on the scene, but it proved useless when no water mains could be found.

PETITIONED FOR WATER

Citizens of the district who gathered to watch the flames claimed they had sent "repeated" petitions to the provincial government asking for water and sewage disposal facilities.

Jean Leclerc, chairman of the Young People's Christian Workers of St. Johns said his organization would hold the government responsible for the deaths of the children.

In negotiation, conciliation and arbitration proceedings the most the wage increase went into effect. About 200 employees at the hotel are expected to take part in the vote.

Troops May Be Used In Dock Strike

Action to Save Much Perishable Foodstuffs Likely

LONDON, June 15.—(Reuters)—British ministers were today believed to be discussing the use of troops to save perishable foodstuffs held up by London's five-day-old dock strike now involving more than 10,000 men and tying up more than 100 ships.

News of this development came as the strike, which started over the handling of a "dirty calendar" spread to Tilbury docks in the Thames estuary and as union efforts to get the men to return ended in complete failure.

OUTCOME AWAITED

All the ministries affected by the strike, including food, labor and transport, had awaited the outcome of the dockers' lunch-time meeting today in the hope that the men would decide to return to work.

But the meeting called by the Transport and General Workers' Union—world's largest union—was abortive.

About 10,000 had been expected to attend the meeting but only 200 turned up and before union officials could speak to them they started walking away.

MEAT IS SAFE

Cargoes were said to include meat to feed Britain for two weeks under the ration, about 35,000 tons. The ships are refrigerated and the meat is safe. Total of import and export cargoes held up was estimated at $15,000,000 ($60,000,000).

U.S. Delaying Wheat Pact

OTTAWA, June 15.—(CP)—Delay in United States ratification of the International wheat agreement is the "difficulty" keeping it from coming into force, Trade Minister Howe said in the commons today.

The minister was commenting at the request of H. G. McCallum, a Canadian wheat producer, on a London report that British grain trade experts were pessimistic over prospects for ratification of the agreement.

Unless ratified by Aug. 1, the agreement will not come into effect for the international cereal season ending in July, 1946.

Mr. McCallum said he could not say if the U.S. would ratify by Aug. 1. Congress is due to adjourn Saturday.

Canada has ratified the agreement, Howe said, but Australia has done so only with the proviso that the U.S. also give it ratification.

Rehabilitation To Increase Cost

VANCOUVER, June 15.—(CP)—Fraser River's bill of flood damages will likely mount to $15,000,000, a survey of municipal officials revealed today, but rehabilitation will cost several millions more.

The municipal figures are "preliminary estimates," and do not include damage to roads, rail lines and dikes.

At the same time, the cost of rehabilitating ousted families and ruined land, shared by the provincial and federal governments, is placed between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000.

2,400 HOMELESS FAMILIES

The survey shows: 1. Approximately 2,400 families have been left homeless by the floods.

2. More than 3,000 houses and barns have been damaged by water and silt, and many broken from their foundations.

3. Total area inundated was approximately 37,000 acres at the height of the flood. About 19,000 additional acres have been damaged by seepage.

4. Actual livestock loss is less than 100 head. About 25,000 head were safely evacuated.

5. More than 100 bridges have been washed out or damaged.

HERE ARE ESTIMATES

Here is the estimated crop and property damage in the main areas affected:

East Chilliwack, $4,500,000; Matsqui, $4,100,000; Nicomen-Dewdney, $3,500,000; Pitt Meadows, $75,000; Mission, $75,000.

Acting Premier of Saskatchewan, C. M. Finlay, traded verbal blows with Agriculture Minister James Gardiner about the province's population. Said Finlay: "The population dropped from 1944 to 1947. Under the Liberals, from '36 to '43, it went down by 80,000. Gardiner said the population has decreased by 63,000 since '44."

In Stockholm, Sweden, the Communist organ printed complete lyrics of "You can have her, I don't want her, she's too fat for me." Their comment: "One of the flowers of American culture."

The poverty-stricken fishing village of Quidi Vidi, Newfoundland, has been singled out as an example of why the islanders might vote for economic unity with the U.S. instead of joining the Canadian confederation. It is next door to a real, wealthy, American air base.

In Brattleboro, Vt., George Wadsworth, who recently toured Canada, has asked the government for a double passport on emigration. His plan is for an extensive "redistribution of population," with close co-operation between emigrating people, and industries and the government.

Recent announcement by Canadian Trade Minister C. D. Howe, that British Overseas Airways might buy Canadian-built North Star aircraft, brought a flood of protest from British aircraft industry workers. The indication is that BOAC is going to have to desert its "fly British" policy for one of economy.

Official U.S. and British German-language newspapers in the Reich have claimed that Russia is still, despite denials, dismantling German factories and taking them to Russia. The workmen, they claim, are taken to uranium mines as forced workers.

In New York, citizens accustomed to the Great White Way, were startled out of their indifference when a switch was pulled illuminating a block-long sign containing: Two miles of neon tubing, a news bulletin panel, a real waterfall, and 5-story-high nude statues of a man and a woman.

In Ottawa, debate waxed fiercely over a bill which proposed increasing the salary of the Lieutenant-governor of Prince Edward Island from $7,000 to $8,000 a year. Both government and opposition speakers protested increasing salaries of public officials while the average Canuck is without relief from the high cost of living—but they passed the bill.

A Manhattan, New York physician who allegedly delivered two babies of unwed mothers, and sold them to married couples, was arrested and charged with violations of social welfare and public health laws. The doctor, Abraham Schonkoff, was so charged because there are no felony laws covering such illegal sales. City School Board To Gain $24,000

Increased Grants Officially Announced by Alta. Govt.

Increased school grants officially announced today by the provincial government were estimated by an education department official to mean at least an additional $24,000 to the Edmonton public school board.

The education department official releasing the information said his estimate was "just a guess," but the increase should be at least that much.

Edmonton public school board officials said they had not seen the new school grant regulations and would not confirm nor deny the suggestion until copies of the amendments and the new regulations had been received.

$55 PER ROOM BOOST

The new regulations provide for an increased grant of $55 a year for each room giving instruction in grades one to six, and an increase of $50 a year for all other classrooms.

This brings the grant per year per room for the elementary grades to $360, for intermediate schools (grades 7 to 9) to $450 and for high school grades to $700 annually.

Increases are also noted for county schools in which instruction in one or more of the classes is given in a single room.

Grants equivalent to the room grants are to be allowed for each teacher employed, but not teaching full time.

This provision was explained as allowing grants for school principals and other teachers whose duties do not confine them entirely to class rooms.

Teaching of pupils who are unable to take instruction with regular classes due to physical infirmity or other handicap is encouraged by a new clause in the grant regulations which provides the provincial grants shall cover half of the teacher's salary.

EQUALIZATION GRANTS

Other changes in the regulations are of particular interest to rural schools with bus lines providing transportation.

Equalization grants, used to assist those school districts and divisions where the room assessment is low are now estimated on a new basis.

All school divisions where the average assessment per room falls below the minimum set will receive a grant of $16 annually for each $1,000 the assessment is under the approved valuation.

In previous years, this grant was on a sliding scale from nine dollars to $16 a thousand.

LPP Explains Election Stand

SASKATOON, June 18.—(CP)—Backing of CCF candidates by the Labor Progressive Party was explained last night by A. A. MacLeod, Labor Progressive member for Toronto in the Ontario legislature, as a compromise between the CCF and governments backed by Maurice Duplessis, Walter Tack, Mackenzie King or George Drew.

Mr. MacLeod said his party rejected the philosophy of the CCF but was supporting the party in the current Saskatchewan election campaign because the Labor Progressive party believed a better administration possible under the CCF than under any other party.

This is the year to decide whether Canada will be a united country or a Balkanized monarchy.

"Someday" comes closer with every dollar you save

Most of us have to plan for the good things of life. And a big part of that planning is a matter of dollars and cents—of earmarking a certain part of our earnings for the things we want most. It's not always easy, especially these days. But the fact remains that what you save is still the most important—the most satisfying—part of what you earn. Are you hoping for something... or saving for it?

Yeggs Get $55 From Store Safe

Safecrackers moved into action early Friday morning to escape with $55 in cash from a South Side store.

Dial from a steel safe in the Red and White Store, 11051 88 avenue, was struck away and the contents strewn on the floor.

Alarm was sent in by Special Constable Len Hayes who spotted the front door of the frame stucco building open at 2 a.m. today.

Constables J. H. McCallum and J. M. Reid were first on the scene in a police prowler car shortly after 2 a.m.

Thieves gained entry into the store by snipping a heavy padlock on the front door with bolt cutters.

A Yale lock on the door was also "slipped," police said.

Dial on the safe was struck away by a steel instrument and the mechanism punched out, according to police.

Breakdown of the loot includes $37 in bills, $16 in silver, plus a quantity of stamps, cash vouchers and insurance papers.

After looting the steel safe, located at the rear of the building, the thieves are believed to have left by the rear door. See picture on page one.

New Hotel Most Important

The most urgent immediate necessity in Edmonton is additional hotel space to accommodate those visitors who bring money and frequently new industries to Edmonton.

That is why the clean-cut decision of the city council to refuse to consider an alternative site for the proposed new $6,000,000 hotel is to be commended as a step that will expedite the final arrangements for building.

Edmonton citizens are not particularly concerned about where the new hotel is located so long as it is located in some accessible district and at the earliest possible moment.

Most of them would dislike to see a sound civic centre project disjunct by the breaking up of the civic centre site.

But no civic centre site has ever been officially approved. It is all distressingly vague and nebulous. Moreover, there is no evidence to show that the hotel site approved by the council would interfere with civic centre planning or, in the alternative, that the hotel would not add tone and dignity to the chosen district and fit in adequately as a unit of the civic centre.

Against the objections to the present hotel site, most citizens have weighed the very cogent facts that Edmonton has only 60 percent of the hotel space enjoyed by Calgary although the population here is 25,000 greater, that no more than 1,600 hotel rooms are available in this city, and that restricted hotel accommodations have the same effect as slicing the dog on new business.

Rejection by the council, then, of an alternative site is no slap in the face for a civic centre project. It is merely an essential short-cut towards the completion of negotiations that are vital to the welfare of Edmonton.

The National Health Program

Alberta's proposed establishment of a health survey committee is a prompt step towards implementation of the federal government's great new health program in this province.

This health program, in brief, is this: The federal government will spend dollar for dollar in grants with the provincial governments, first, to make extensive health surveys and, secondly, to combat the diseases that take greatest toll of Canadian lives and Canadian efficiency.

In its first full year of operation, the program will total more than $30,000,000.

In the first instance, a total of $625,000 has been appropriated towards provincial surveys.

General public health grants will run from $4,404,000 in the first year to an eventual $6,500,000 per year.

The tuberculosis grant runs from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 per year.

The mental health care grant will increase from $4,000,000 to $7,000,000, venereal disease $500,000 crippled children's care $500,000, professional training grant $500,000, public health research $100,000 to $500,000, control of cancer $3,500,000.

In addition to these, the federal government will make grants up to $13,000,000 a year for five years for hospital construction.

The whole program is a vigorous and intelligent attempt to grapple with those forces of disease that cause premature death and impair the usefulness and life enjoyment of Canadians.

The provincial government does well to participate in the plan promptly and enthusiastically.

United Emergency Fund for Britain

The plan expounded in Edmonton the other night by Lady Eaton, Sir Ellsworth Flavelle and Kenneth F. MacLaren for a United Emergency Fund for Britain is a businesslike attempt to coordinate and consolidate the sending of food parcels to the United Kingdom.

The officers of the Fund have no intention of discouraging the individual sending of parcels to specified persons in the Old Country. But if parcels are sent through the offices of the Fund, the food-stuffs will be purchased at lower prices and transportation costs will be minimized.

The system will work out something like this:

If you wish to spend $10 a month or $5 a month or whatever it is on parcels to Britain, you send that amount to the United Emergency Fund for Britain and whatever you specify in the way of food-stuffs will be delivered in your name to whomsoever you designate as the recipient.

If you know of no particular person to whom you wish to send parcels, your donation will be used to supply food to persons most needing it in Britain. The Fund will maintain an office in the United Kingdom to guarantee equitable distribution.

Those who send parcels to Britain through the Fund may deduct the amount of their donations from their income tax.

One of the prime purposes of the Fund organization is to secure a lower postal rate on private food parcels to Britain.

The aims of the new organization, which will set up a provincial committee in Alberta, are commendable and practical. Some effort along this line is long overdue.

There will be a general national drive for funds the first three weeks in November.

Canada is heading for some really stormy weather in international trade and finance. Just as our government at Ottawa seems like a shipwreck before the U.S. dollar and the crisis of last fall, so now they are curiously complacent in the face of the crisis.

The general background of our trade crisis is well known. Canada is one of the greatest trading nations in the world.

Roughly one out of every three families in Canada is dependent for its living on international trade.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

All Give Day's Pay

Editor, Bulletin.—To make the British Columbia Flood Emergency Fund a success, many thousands of dollars are needed at once.

No doubt in many of our industrial plants, the subscription can be handled by employee-authorised payroll deduction.

Funds are needed now, for immediate aid and later as a reimbursement for the flood.

Pulling together we can make the load lighter for all and reducing the burden of those who in some cases have seen a life's labor wiped out.

Editor, Bulletin.—As a boy I often went to Whipsnade Zoo to see the seals being fed.

How the seals used to love to swim around their pool, and how they would beg their food.

One of the Yukon, this land of wonderment, comes a tale, from a fisherman's tale, from a fisherman's tale.

I tried to run the story down to its source and ended up with a fisherman who swore it was a fact. Indeed this fisherman, who should be named as all good fishermen should be, when telling a fishy story, informed me that it is up to us, or those of us, and if that method doesn't succeed he sits down along with the fisherman and tells the story.

There will be a general national drive for funds the first three weeks in November.

Editor, Bulletin.—I believe your face should take on a rosy hue for your editorial of June 11 on "Indoctrination in Saskatchewan".

The text book in question is, "The World of Today," published by the Ryerson Press. This book is supposed to laud the Soviet system, according to Mr. Tucker.

Incidentally, this book is a prescribed text for Grade IX in Alberta schools and has been used in the province for several years.

FROM TODAY'S NEWS

A deadly process is under way in Korea. As in Germany, the prospect is for two separate governments.

Meanwhile, the prospect for trouble among the Koreans is growing rather than diminishing. This is shown by the way Dr. Byungman Rhee, the Conservative president of the Southern Korean government, openly favors American troops staying in spite of the known unpopularity of any occupation troops in Korea.

Despite the majority victory which Dr. Rhee and his right-wing political group won in the recent election in the south, there is still widespread opposition to their rule, much of it underground.

This movement contains Communist, moderate, and even some rival right-wing elements. Many of these diverse elements are now being a Russo-American war is inevitable and that the sooner it takes place the better for Korea.

When the Moon Leans

Editor, Bulletin.—To settle one of those little arguments that crop up occasionally, when you please answer the following question. When the moon leans westward, does it signify wet or dry weather?

Indians say when they can hang their powder horn on the moon (in above position) that it signifies—?

Edmonton, B.C. R. M. L.

Editor's Note: When an Indian can hang his powder horn on the moon, legend says it means dry weather. A new moon leaning on its back resembles a bowl out of which water can not spill. It would not hold water, of course, in the reverse position. However, this leaning appearance has no weather significance.

OUR TOWN

Calls Carnegie's Book 'Ghastly'

For the last hour I have been sitting here as erect as an Egyptian statue, slowly tensing my toes and rolling my head about heavily, as if it were a football, and it is obviously having no effect whatever.

This excursion into a combination of yoga and chiropody originates with a copy of Dale Carnegie's ghastly new book "How to Stop Worrying and Start Living." It was sent to me by a well-wisher who seems to think the tome was written especially for me.

The gruesome head-rolling business is just a sample of Mr. Carnegie's optimistic approach to the mental rigors of our way of life. He also recommends, in several thousand pages of Farmer's Almanac philosophy, that you talk yourself out of whatever real or imaginary nervous condition may be ailing you.

In all, I found the volume about as invigorating as the Fourth Reader and just as empty of adult life. Yet, like Mr. Carnegie's previous collection of cracker-barrel euphemisms, "How to Win Friends and Influence People," it will probably be sold to a horde of poor boobies who are also suckers for hypnosis, tonics, California religious sects and patent medicines.

Mr. Carnegie has made a fortune from his quack "advice" and I think there is a fortune to be made by some enterprising writer who quickly put together a volume as an antidote. The title for this might be "How to Get Back to Normal After Reading Dale Carnegie."

The Carnegie student—fervently calm and determined—well-adjusted in public, yet tensing his toes and rolling his head like a football in private—is obviously an advanced schizophrenic who needs all the help he can get.

Producing New Disease
Mr. Carnegie's original best seller fed on the Babbitt luncheon club idea that the greatest gift is to have a vibrant, compelling personality which will charm the passing throng and sell countless vacuum cleaners or insurance policies. It produced a million obvious phantasies and backwash.

His present volume is dedicated to the theory that we are all nervous wrecks. I suggest that there are at least a mortuary parlor. There may be some essence of truth here. I suggest that there are at least a mortuary parlor. There may be some essence of truth here.

What these people really need is something but, the Edmonton to retreat into smug indifference. Atrophy of the mind is not the cure, but the cause of illness. They should disturb their minds with the wonder and beauty and challenge of the world outside their ledgers and living rooms.

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Farmer Plows Up Buried Pemmican

Well Preserved Buffalo Meat Found in Indian 'Pantry'

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, June 18. — It was reported last week that farmers at Butte, breaking land, had unearthed some pemmican evidently buried years ago by the Indians, and everyone supposed it was the same kind the squaws still make every fall here, wild meat dried in strips. But the stuff just found is very different.

Mrs. D. Craig, whose farm adjoins the new breaking where the pemmican was found, brought two pieces into town to exhibit, and it does not look like any pemmican ever seen by any white man here, but some of the very old Indians can remember that that was the way it was made and stored long years ago.

100 YEARS OLD

One of the pieces is the shape of a large loaf of bread, about fifteen inches long and seven inches through, a solid chunk. The other the same, but smaller. The old Indians say that it is buffalo meat, pounded to hamburger, then wrapped tightly in a buffalo hide and buried. What was dug up recently was about a foot below the surface of the ground, on land where Indians used to camp a hundred years ago.

It had never been touched with a plough till this spring. The Indians did not bury it to hide it, as was first thought, but to store it, as with the Indians here, and that the white housekeepers use a pantry either they forgot where they had buried this, or had to flee before some enemy and it has lain in the ground all these years.

The leaves brought into town are very dark and the hide had blended with the meat until one cannot tell that it has been wrapped in a hide. It is hard, but can be cut, and there are white streaks throughout, that are likely the tallow of the buffalo. Pemmican made these days has blueberries and saskatons pounded into the meat, but no one can say whether this has or not.

LIKE RAW MEAT

One piece was cut and the inside is quite red and looks like raw meat. How any raw meat could keep all these years without drying no one can understand, but it must be cured in some way that even the oldest Indian cannot tell of. This looks good and has not spoiled.

The pemmican that is common with the Indians here, and that the

FIRE DESTROYS TROCHU HOME

TROCHU, June 18. — The farm home of Clarence Elvin and its contents was destroyed by fire Wednesday about 5:30 p.m. Mrs. Elvin, Sr., who is nearly 80 years old was alone at the time and is at present in St. Mary's hospital, Trochu, suffering from shock. Cause of fire is unknown.

Needlework Class Conducts Bazaar

BARRHEAD, June 18. — The Barrhead high school needlework class conducted an enjoyable afternoon in the form of a tea bazaar, and display of the year's accomplishments.

Under the direction of Miss Marilyn Casey, the affair emerged a huge success. Mrs. M. Hauck and Mrs. C. Yuill assisted and Miss Peggy Mohrmann acted as hostess. Proceeds from the bazaar were donated to the "Canadian Appeal For Cancer."

Squaws make every fall, is deer, moose or elk meat cut in strips, with wild berries pounded on it, then dried in the sun. When thoroughly dried, it has shrunk to thin slices and keeps forever. But no one can understand how a big chunk of raw meat, wrapped in a hide and buried a foot in the ground, could remain good for a hundred years, but it has.

The finders hope there is some museum or collection of Indian relics to whom they may send a loaf of this pemmican, which is so different to what everyone thought pemmican is.

FATHER SEEKS DAMAGES FOR SON'S DEATH

Damages totalling $7,500 are sought in a supreme court action filed by the law firm of Macdonald and Young, on behalf of Harvey T. Kennedy, administrator of the estate of Ronald Kennedy, his son.

Defendant to the action is Harry Strachan, well driller. All litigants are from the Hilda district.

It is alleged that the defendant was negligent in his supervision of well drilling operations on Marcel Brosak's farm, in the course of which Harvey Kennedy met his death.

The deceased was drilling with John Brosak, another 18-year-old boy, when water was struck. Kennedy descended the well to determine whether the water flow was from the bottom of sides of the well.

He was overcome by gas fumes, and his body was recovered from the well several hours later.

Two youths in a house near the factory were questioned and admitted the shooting.

They will be summoned for infraction of a city bylaw, police said.

A garage, owned by Joseph Shero, 11818 95 street, was burned on one wall when a young five-year-old boy threw a match into dry leaves near the building, police said.

The fire was extinguished by a part of water.

A storm window in his house was smashed by a stone, according to John Rehak, 5067 106 avenue.

At 5:30 a.m. Tuesday three men stopped in front of his house in a car, Rehak told police.

One of the men slipped from the car, heaved a stone through a front window in his house and drove away, Rehak said.

The unidentified body of a man was taken from the North Saskatchewan River, approximately five miles north west of Hruschewitz Thursday.

There was no identification on the body.

Investigators estimated the age of the dead man at about 52. He was five-foot-eight inches tall.

He is believed to have been dead for about two weeks.

Part-Time Job For 37 Years

Charles T. Hultschewitz, well-known South Side post office worker, retired Thursday.

He had served the postal service for a total of 37 years, 26 of them in the main Edmonton post office in South Edmonton.

His retirement was made upon his 65th birthday.

Mr. Hultschewitz was born in Middlesborough, Yorks, came to Canada in 1905 and took a farm in Saskatchewan, later moving to Mill.

His post office service was "accidental," as he joined the staff in 1911 to help in the Christmas rush and has been with them ever since.

He worked in the main Edmonton post office for several years before going to the South Side office permanently.

During the First World War, he served overseas for three years with the 6th Infantry Battalion, having been a member of the 20th Alberta Dragoons prior to the conflict.

An experienced gardener and beekeeper, Mr. Hultschewitz plans to spend his retirement at home.

Success in credit union operations is more easily attained by linking activities of the individual credit union with others through district, provincial, national and international organizations.

That was the message brought Thursday to the Edmonton district chapter of Credit Unions by Gordon Smith, managing director of Credit Union National Association with headquarters in Montreal, Wis.

Mr. Smith spoke at a chapter meeting in the Social Credit Hall.

He urged the necessity for credit unions to take out loan and savings insurance, to protect themselves against loss through the death of members.

Mr. Smith, along with Alberta Credit Union League officials, has been making a two-week tour of Alberta points, and reviewing credit union activities in the province.

City Pair Convicted On Narcotic Charges

Second Man Wins Acquittal In Court

A man and a woman were found guilty of illegal possession of narcotics and similar charges against a second man were dismissed in police court Thursday.

Found guilty were John Forbes and Marjorie Brown. Acquitted was William D. Harris.

A fourth charge, against Bertha Gans, will be heard in police court today.

The quartette was arrested by city and RCMP detectives at 5531 185A avenue, May 27.

Charges against Harris were dismissed when witnesses told the court he had arrived at the premises only two or three minutes before detectives arrived.

Evidence submitted by the Crown included a spoon, a scale and a medicine which revealed traces of morphine under analysis by C. E. Noble, provincial analyst.

Crown witnesses were city detectives Alex Stevenson and Jim McMurphy, and RCMP detective J. A. McCullough.

The trio of women told the court of finding the narcotics equipment in the premises where the four were arrested.

Forbes, found guilty Thursday, conducted his own defense, while the remaining three are being detained by W. G. K. Blair.

Sentences against the two found guilty will not be passed until completion of the fourth trial.

Trials were conducted in special sessions apart from the regular police court.

Compulsory Plan Of Hospitalization Advances Stage

CALGARY, June 18.—(CP)—A proposed compulsory hospitalization plan for all established Calgary residents moved one step nearer reality last night when it was approved by the Calgary Hospital Board.

Under the plan, drawn up and approved by the board's finance committee earlier this week, city residents would receive specified hospital service in return for a compulsory levy of $2 monthly for families and $1 a month for single persons.

The plan, believed to be the first of its kind in Canada, now goes before city council. If approved, there, a plebiscite probably will be held to gain approval of city residents.

U.K. Commons To Scrutinize ERP

Plan Regarded as Life-Saver But Will Get Careful Study

By H. L. Jones

LONDON, June 18.—(CP)—The European Recovery Plan is regarded as a life-saver by the United Kingdom but it will not be signed until "we have had a good look at the conditions attached."

This means an examination by parliament as well as by the financial experts who will negotiate with the ERP administration. When house of commons members yesterday demanded an opportunity to debate the agreement, Foreign Secretary Bevin said that he hoped to give it in the house within a week of the July 3 signing deadline.

NO DETAILS YET

A detailed agreement of provisions has not yet been published and British comment has been based on anticipation of the general terms which are subject to various interpretations.

Political observers said parliament's attitude reminded them of 1946 when the United States loan agreement was discussed and several members criticized conditions they feared would hamper Britain's freedom of action.

These same members, assisted by others who feel the loan arrangements might have been worked out better, will want assurances on currency, trade and the political implications of the ERP agreement.

The draft agreement probably will bind the participating country to take measures to stabilize currency, maintain the value of exchange and generally maintain confidence in its monetary system.

WANT ASSURANCE

Members will want British government assurance that such a clause would not give the United States the power to make Britain devalue the pound sterling. It was understood that British ministers already have been assured that the United States does not intend to force countries to make currency changes.

A disagreement has a provision for non-discrimination in trade, members will raise the question whether imperial preferences are endangered.

They will be watchful for clauses that might require Britain to buy goods in the United States that she does not want or obligate her to sell to the United States supplies she cannot spare.

Three Honored By Postmasters

CALGARY, June 18.—(CP)—Three Saskatchewan residents were honored by the Alberta branch, Canadian Postmasters' Association, last night.

H. J. Arnold of Havelock, Sask., president of the Saskatchewan branch, and Mrs. Arnold, were presented a silver tea service for their 27th wedding anniversary celebrated here last Tuesday.

A presentation also was made to Charles Griffiths of Estevan, Sask., who recently retired as dominion secretary of the CPA after 20 years' service.

Compromise Bill

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP)—Senate House committees agreed last night on a compromise bill to let 20,000 homeless Europeans join the United States during the next two years. The bill now goes back to both houses for final action.

Transferable Vote Favored In South

CALGARY, June 18.—(CP)—Delegates from the West Calgary Federal Labour Association will transferable vote at future federal elections.

The association last night named William Brown of Banff, J. J. Cairns and J. J. Bowden, both of Calgary, as delegates to the annual Liberal convention opening at Vancouver Aug. 5. C. C. Matthews, the federal West Calgary Liberal candidate, is unable to attend.

Matthews, a former West Calgary MP, said eastern publications will not accept the single transferable vote, but thought that result of the last three federal by-elections was a step in the right direction.
